

Dublin 15 Domestic Violence Working Group Community Conference 2023

The D15 DVWG aims to increase awareness of domestic violence in all its forms. This aim is in part achieved, through the organising of an annual community conference.

This year's conference is on Friday 24th
November, 10am -1pm in Huntstown
Community Centre with the theme,
"Experiential learning about Domestic Violence".

Speakers will be announced soon.

This conference will be markedly different to any conference you may have already attended. Audience participation and observation will play a big part of this conference. Participants will take the perspective of victims of Domestic Violence and, travelling an imaginary journey, discover the trauma of seeking help. You will encounter assistance, barriers, fear, stress, worry, dejection etc. experiences typical of those who must turn to voluntary/statutory agencies for support stemming for Domestic Violence.
